2: END-TO-END

IndigoVision is a complete video security solution from camera to software to recorder, so performance and stability go hand-in-hand. And you are future-proofed: the cameras you buy today we will still support in 10 years time.

IndigoVision

3: NO SINGLE POINT OF FAILURE

IndigoVision's unique Distributed Network Architecture removes the need for a central server – so no single point of failure, greater resilience, dramatically reduced latency and no network bottlenecks.

IndigoVision

4: SCALABLE

IndigoVision's architecture is completely scalable, you can expand at will: add more cameras or recorders wherever and whenever you choose. Our software is license-free so you can install Control Center any number of times.
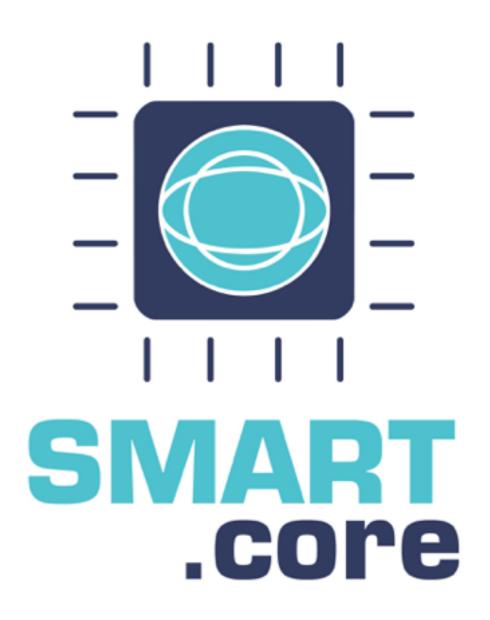

Flexibility, that's also why IndigoVison.

IndigoVision

5: REALLY SMART HARDWARE

Cameras and encoders equipped with IndigoVision's unique SMART.core™ technology not only have market leading video and audio performance, but in-built video analytics. Superior compression means less storage costs and up to 90% lower system costs. (No that is not a misprint: 90% lower system costs.)

Save money. An obvious reason why IndigoVision.

6: OPEN

Our system is end-to-end, with all the reliability and compatibility benefits of a closed system, but our hardware is open, you can integrate them with other systems. So is our management software, choose from a wide range of third party cameras.

IndigoVision

6: OPEN

You can also integrate other security systems, such as Access Control, Communication Systems, Perimeter Detection or pretty much anything with our Software Development Kit.

IndigoVision

7: EASY

A totally seamless flow of events between IndigoVision and third party systems delivers a fully integrated, easy to install and easy to manage security solution.

It gives you the best of both worlds: you get the easy install and low service calls you expect from our end-to-end solution, coupled with the freedom of choice of a truly open system.

Making being safe easy. That's why IndigoVision.
